Project Title: Radium Girls Website

I want to build this website with four pages and sections within two of the pages. For these sections with pages, I'd like to use buttons to jump to these sections to minimize scrolling and another button that allows the user to return to the top of the page.

- Home - this will be the homepage of the website and give a brief description of the topic
- Story - this will break down the story of the radium girls
  - Background
  - Radiation Exposure
  - Litigation
- Significance - this will break down the impact of the story
  - Labor Rights
  - Scientific Discovery
  - Popular Culture
- Sources - I will add my sources for information and images on this page
